

THE ULB NEUROSCIENCE INSTITUTE INTERNATIONAL PhD PROGRAM IN NEUROSCIENCE 2015.

The ULB Neuroscience Institute (UNI) is located at Université Libre de Bruxelles, Belgium, and comprises more than 150 scientists grouped into 18 research groups. It offers a dynamic and diverse research environment in all fields of neuroscience, from molecular and cellular neurobiology, to systems, cognitive, and clinical neurosciences.

In order to expand internationally and keep rising its level of excellence, UNI has launched an International PhD Program in Neuroscience. Successful candidates will have the opportunity to work in a top UNI laboratory of their choice, in a stimulating and diverse environment aligned with the highest International standards, comprising state of the art facilities.

They will be supported with a PhD Fellowship fully covering living expenses and tuition. In addition they will enjoy the international flavour of Brussels, a lively city in the heart of Europe.

Highly qualified candidates with a deep commitment to neuroscience research are invited to apply. Applicants should hold a MSc degree (or equivalent).

Closing date for application is April 1st 2015. Selection will be completed by end of June. Accepted candidates may start research projects as early as October 2015.
